Recognising Excellence in Automation Technologies

Date: 27 July 2017

Organised by the Manufacturing Group of publications at Contineo Media, the Asian Manufacturing Awards 2017 provides a distinct opportunity to honour control, instrumentation, and automation product manufacturers and service providers who, over the past year, have provided the best solutions to address today's engineering and manufacturing challenges.

The winners will be determined by an international panel of judges who will analyse and select the best technology solutions/services providers from the nominations received. The judging process is audited by an external party to ensure fairness and transparency.

Panel of Judges

Comprising highly respected professionals and distinguished leaders in the manufacturing industry, the judges for the Asian Manufacturing Awards have been chosen for their unwavering dedication to product excellence, their wide and rich experience in the manufacturing industry and are known for their impartial views to ensure a high degree of fairness, transparency and professionalism during the judging process. Judges are not permitted to adjudicate in their own category to ensure a high standard of fairness during this crucial stage.

Nomination and Judging

Nomination: Enterprises wishing to participate in this award will sign up as self-recommended candidates, or nominate other candidates for corresponding awards or categories.

Judging Period: 2 May to 2 Jun 2017

Judging: The winners will be selected by our international panel of expert judges, who will analyse and rank the nominations received. A full list of those enterprises (self-recommended or nominated) will be submitted to the judging panel who will select the final winners. The judging process is audited by an external party to ensure fairness and transparency.

Special Award – Industry Leader Award 2017

The Industry Leader Award recognizes manufacturing professionals who are making a significant contribution to the success of their company and the industry they represent.

The Award aims to honour industry leaders who have made and continue to make an impact through their outstanding achievements in their respective fields.

Nominations will be judged by the Asia Manufacturing Awards Committee, who will be looking for successful and well-rounded individuals. In no particular order, the Committee will be looking at the leadership skills, technical skills, industry accomplishments, academic training, people/management skills and positive influence in the industry.

Winner will be announced on 27 July 2017 at the Asian Manufacturing Awards & Gala Dinner.

Awards Ceremony: 27 July 2017

Awards Ceremony & Gala Dinner: The final winners will be officially announced at the Grand Awards Ceremony & Gala Dinner on July 2017 at Singapore. The winners' list and post award coverage will be published in the three print publications:

Asia Food Journal Sep/Oct 2017, Control Engineering Asia Sep/Oct 2017, Logistics Insight Asia Oct-Dec 2017
